The Industrial Commissioner Brings About Conference of Strikers and W. U.

HER FIRST PUBLIC CASE

New Zoning System Said to Be One of the Chief Grievances as Pay Is Cut.

Miss Prances Perkins, State Industrial Commissioner, had her first public case yesterday as head of the mediation divim, delving into the strike of Western Union messengers, 1,000 of whom are maid to be out. Miss Perkins invited the strike committee to her headquarters at 230 Fifth avenue and was entirely sympathetic with their cause. When she had heard the full story she sent John Bealin of the State Industrial Department with the strike committee to see Daniel Skel-ton of the American District Telegraph Company, and a hearing was arranged for to-morrow.

What Miss Perkins learned was that messongers from 14 to 60 years old are being paid in many cases $10 a week, that they have only one day off in four-teen and that they are not paid for undelivered telegrams. The strike committee told her also that the company recently had adopted a new zoning system which cut their former flat rate of 2½ cents a message to 3 cents for the first message and & cents for succeeding message and % cents for succeeding

The Western Union company admitted that the messenger service has been diminished by the strike and it was said that customers, especially those in the financial district, have been asked to send their telegrams in by telephone or have them delivered to the company offices. It was reported that in order to present violence the messents will be the company of the present violence the messents will be the company of the present will be the telephone of the messents will be the telephone the telep to prevent violence the measurers who have been hired to take the places of the strikers will not be allowed to wear the regulation uniforms.

Considerable complaint was made by I. M. Sackin, counsel for the union, over the mishandling which some of the strikers received at the hands of policemen. The strike committee reported that Jacob Gold of 120 Suffolk street had been beaten by a policeman at the strikers and the strikers are strikers. Miss Perkins expressed surprise at the statements of the strikers that the company had done practically nothing toward the education and schooling of the boys or improving their condition. Only recently, it was said, have they been invited to attend the school of telegraphers. She was also impressed by the phera. Mr. Bealing, with the messengers committee, reached the main office of the company at 4:30 P. M. and went into consultation with Mr. Skelton. The latter refused to admit the strikers at sorrey to the conference and after at Scheme Is to Weather torney to the conference, and after a telephone message to Miss Perkins this was agreed upon. Owing to the late hour an adjournment was taken. Miss Perkins said she was determined to bring about a fair settlement.

If you have two coats give one to your fellow man who is shivering in Europe. Give every practical garment you can. Give your second best dress. Give shoes. Give underwear. Give all the used clothing you don't urgently need. Because men, women and children across the water need it desperately.
